Every picture tells a story...

and this one certainly does. It's the story of Baptism and it's a picture of a stained glass window that soon will be fixed in St. Thomas' Church. Of course it looks magnificent in colour and perhaps when it is fixed you will want to pop in to see it.

The symbol of water is obvious in Baptism; the dove represents the Holy Spirit whose inspiration we ask for when a baby is christened and the Circle represents the mystery of God.

Stained Glass windows are expensive and we are planning a raffle to raise the money - no doubt somebody will be asking you to buy a ticket. Of course we need help to pay for this work of art, but a thing of beauty will be a joy for a very long time.

Do you also enjoy singing in the bath?

If the Cap fits!

Ease the pounding of my heart by quietening my mind.
Steady my hurried pace.
Give me calmness amidst the confusion of my day.
Break the tension of my nerves with soothing music that lives in my memory.
Help me to know the magical restoring power of sleep.
Teach me the art of taking minute vacations, of slowing down to chat with a friend, to read a book, to look at a flower.
Remind me each day of the fable of the hare and the tortoise that I may know there is more to life than speed.
Let me look up towards the branches of the towering oak and remember that it grew great because it grew slowly.
Slow me down Lord, slow me down...
